I. Read the following passage and answer the questions that follow:

(5x1=5)

Kabir is one of the famous poets of India. Nobody knows to which religion he belonged. The only fact known about him is that as a baby he was abandoned by his parents. A kind Muslim weaver took the baby home and brought him up as his own son. In due course of time, Kabir grew up into a young man and looked around for a guru. He became the disciple of Swami Ramanand, who influenced him greatly. Kabir realized that religions divided humanity. He wanted people to develop love for God. He won the hearts of all the people with his divine songs and poems. When he died, both the Muslims and the Hindus wanted to perform his last rites according to their respective faiths. But when the sheet that covered his dead body was removed, there was no body.. All they saw there was just a heap of flowers. Thus, even after his death, Kabir showed that it was futile to quarrel in the name of religion. According to him, all religions talk about the same God, though in different forms and names.

I. Read the following poem and answer the questions below: (5x1=5)

A Bird Came Down

A Bird, came down the Walk -
He did not know I saw
He bit an Angle Worm in halves
And ate the fellow, raw,
And then, he drank a Dew
From a convenient Grass -
And then hopped sidewise to the Wall
To let a Beetle pass -
He glanced with rapid eyes,
That hurried all abroad -
They looked like frightened Beads, I thought,
He stirred his Velvet Head. -
Like one in danger, Cautious,
I offered him a Crumb,
And he unrolled his feathers,
And rowed him softer Home -
Than Oars divide the Ocean,
Too silver for a seam,
Or Butterflies, off Banks of Noon,
Leap, plashes as they swim.
